FROM THE DESK OF CITY MANAGER REESE GOAD

LEADING THE WAY

Over the past year, the City of Tallahassee delivered municipal services to the community with the trademark innovation and tenacity you expect from this organization. The City's highly skilled and dedicated workforce exemplified employee excellence, improved processes, streamlined services and upheld strong financial management practices. As experts in their respective fields, employees continuously and positively impact the community's continued growth and elevate the level of service and responsiveness residents receive. This is what makes us the national leader in the delivery of public service – with a renowned reputation for being the best.

Whether under sunny skies or bracing against hurricane-strength winds, the City's commitment to fortify our community is exemplified through concentrated efforts toward our strategic initiatives and key objectives outlined in the Five-Year Strategic Plan. Throughout the year, staff produced extraordinary results in many ways, such as efforts to provide affordable and sustainable utility services that pave the way for a clean energy future. Because of our low electric rates, Tallahassee customers paid $91 million less for electricity than customers of other utilities around the state. The City's efforts will continue to be integral as we lead the way to a communitywide clean energy future. The path toward that vision was further solidified in August with the adoption of the Clean Energy Plan, a roadmap that will guide the City to 100% net, clean, renewable energy.

Investments in public infrastructure and transportation are balanced with preserving the community's character. Through our well-maintained roadways, walkways and public transit facilities, the City fosters community connectivity and supports economic activity. This year, the City secured an unprecedented $36 million in competitive grant funding to transition StarMetro to an all-electric fleet and construct the Southside Transit Center. The Southside Action Plan further enhances the community by investing in infrastructure, business opportunities and housing development while safeguarding long-standing residents from displacement. In FY23, $500 million of public funding was allocated to Southside projects, encouraging private investment and opening new avenues, such as the North Florida Innovation Labs.

The City is dedicated to creating a safe environment for our community through proactive measures, community-based policing, youth engagement and innovative initiatives that have led to transformative results and national recognition. These efforts include TEMPO, TFLA, TEAM and the Real Time Crime Center. The City has committed $19.2 million to community-led safety initiatives including Neighborhood First programs. To address crime head on, the Tallahassee Police Department is actively recruiting, hiring additional officers and enhancing its technology.

The City's significant financial investments to grow the community's affordable housing inventory are building a stronger economic future for residents. Strategic policymaking, flexible land use approaches, cutting-edge programs and financial commitments of more than $18 million from federal, state and local sources have led to significant progress in affordable housing development, with more certified affordable housing units recently constructed or in the pipeline than the past 25 years combined. The $49.5 million investment in affordable housing efforts over the past five years has not only improved the lives of thousands of individuals and families but has also generated positive results for our local economy.

As a City, we remain focused and steadfast in achieving the targets outlined in our five-year Strategic Plan and making a positive impact within our community. In the pages that follow, you'll see examples of how we have done so this past year across our seven priority areas through our commitment to excellence, teamwork and service and why in 2023 Tallahassee was named as one of HGTV's Top 20 Best Mid-Size Cities in the United States.

Quality of Life

The City of Tallahassee's large, diverse, world-class park system is second to none. As our community grows, our network of parks is growing with it. The completion of Four Oaks Park marks another milestone toward the City's strategic goal of having 100 parks available for residents and visitors to enjoy by 2024. As we quickly approach that goal, the City currently offers nearly 4,000 acres of parkland and 80 miles of trails.

Located at the corner of Four Oaks Boulevard and Tram Road, Four Oaks Park is the largest park in southeast Tallahassee, spanning more than 40 acres. Designed and constructed almost entirely in-house by City employees, this game-changing facility offers several amenities, including a playground, multi-purpose sports fields and basketball, beach volleyball and pickleball courts, as well as open spaces for passive recreation. The stand-out element of the park, however, is its cricket pitch – the City's first!

Gather your family and friends and enjoy a visit to Four Oaks Park. Park entrances are located on Four Oaks Boulevard and Schoolhouse Road. For more information about this park or any of the other nearly 100 City-owned parks, trails, pools, sports leagues, community centers and more, visit Talgov.com/Parks.

Economic Development

Tallahassee is a dynamic and attractive destination for businesses and individuals seeking opportunities in a competitive, innovative and sustainable environment.

The City's significant investments in infrastructure, including technology, utilities and transportation, are paying off. Efforts have stimulated business activities, which have led to economic growth and new employment opportunities for our community.

The Tallahassee International Airport (TLH) is a vital economic driver. Its economic impact increased to $859 million, up 43 percent from $599 million in 2019. Construction of the International Passenger Facility – a $28 million investment – will further drive regional economic growth by facilitating the transportation of goods and products and fostering trade and commerce. When complete, businesses will have an efficient option to move their products to and from Tallahassee.

Setting the stage for future growth, the City Commission approved supporting the establishment of a Foreign Trade Zone, which is projected to create more than 1,600 jobs and generate more than $300 million annually in economic impact.

Total passenger traffic increased from June 2022 to June 2023, with no signs of slowing down. TLH successfully recruited JetBlue to provide non-stop service to Fort Lauderdale International Airport. Additionally, plans to lease 100 acres of airport property will bring even more jobs to the community. Thanks to strategic, long-term planning efforts, Tallahassee is soaring to new heights.

Public Infrastructure

Prioritizing our public infrastructure and transit amenities ensures the resilience and livability of our growing community.

Tallahassee's national award-winning public electric and gas utility supports our growing community while keeping residential bills lower than other public and private electricity providers in the state. Coupled with waste management, water, sewer and stormwater, the City's utilities support efforts to build and sustain modern, resilient and environmentally friendly infrastructure.

StarMetro, the City's public transit system, is further expanding its sustainability initiatives with state and federal grant dollars. One of the largest competitive grants the City has ever received – $20 million from the Federal Transit Administration – will help StarMetro further develop essential battery electric charging infrastructure, add eight more electric buses to the system and develop a workforce training program to maintain the fleet. A $15 million grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation will support construction of the Southside Transit Center.

A strategic initiative of the City to ensure public transportation is accessible, efficient and equitable, the Southside Transit Center will be located on the northwest corner of Orange Avenue and Meridian Street. Construction of this transformative project will drive opportunities for our entire community. Stay engaged as these efforts continue by visiting Tal.gov/StarMetro.

Public Safety

The City has an unwavering commitment to foster public safety through neighborhood-led initiatives, youth engagement and other programming. This year, a state-of-the-art real-time crime center opened, TPD's new headquarters is under construction and Fire Station 17 on Lake Bradford Road is being designed.

The new Capital Region Real Time Crime Center (RTCC), which began operating in early 2023, is a groundbreaking collaboration that brings together resources of local law enforcement and the nation's leading criminology researchers to help make the community safer. The center is an interagency between the Tallahassee Police Department, Florida State University Police Department, Leon County Sheriff's Office and Florida Department of Law Enforcement. It is tasked with improving communication, intelligence sharing and coordination between state, county and city law enforcement agencies.

Researchers and students from the FSU College of Criminology and Criminal Justice provide innovative, timely and comprehensive analyses of crime data – a built-in component that other real-time crime centers don't offer.

This regional asset is already seeing success in helping law enforcement effectively fight crime. Since opening, the RTCC has been instrumental in collaborating with partner agencies on several shootings, homicides, swatting calls and the recovery of more than 120 stolen vehicles.

The embedded research component of the RTCC is an opportunity to use evidence to form criminal justice policy, both locally and for law enforcement agencies around the country.

Impact On Poverty

To mitigate the impact of generational poverty in Tallahassee, the City proactively connects those most at-risk of remaining or becoming financially overburdened to vital resources. Efforts include investing in our youth to help them seek higher education and obtain employment, in crucial community resources through the Community Human Service Partnership (CHSP) program and in department-level programs, such as housing.

The City provides a variety of programs to rehabilitate and enhance existing affordable housing inventory, as well as to facilitate and encourage the construction of new dwelling units. These programs help keep low-income homeowners in safe, healthy homes and aid others on the path to homeownership. In the last fiscal year, more than 13,000 citizens were served by City housing programs.

The City's programs and partnership opportunities also incentivize developers to bring housing projects across the affordability spectrum to Tallahassee and help stretch public dollars, creating a more sustainable, long-term affordable housing environment.

This multifaceted approach helped the City exceed its House America pledge to increase the number of affordable housing units in the pipeline and contributed to the City earning statewide honors as the recipient of the Florida Housing Coalition 2023 State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Award for its rehabilitation and new construction programs.

In Tallahassee, we have more affordable housing units in development or recently completed per capita than our peer cities.

Public Trust

Community engagement is important to the City of Tallahassee. Be it feedback on a sidewalk project, park amenities or a policy item, traditional and more innovative engagement opportunities are used to get citizens involved in decisions that impact the community. Knowing it can be difficult for residents to attend in-person public meetings, other options that have been instituted include virtual meetings, online public comment, neighborhood walks, having staff attend existing neighborhood meetings and public events, engaging through social media, hosting meetings outside of City Hall at community centers and using QR codes in storefront windows, to name a few.

Using a broad spectrum of engagement options helps the City share information and gain input from a wider audience, allowing more community voices to be heard. The City continues to identify and apply new methods for messaging and garnering community engagement to ensure citizens have ample opportunities to interface with their local government.
